BIG FAMILY REUNION

MR. AND MRS. P. S. McNUTT ENTERTAIN WITH PATRIOTIC GATHERING

One of the largest patriotic meetings of the season was held on the 4th inst., under the beautiful shade trees at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. McNutt of Sycamore Canyon. It was in part given as a surprise for Rev. Matthew B. McNutt of New York, brother of the host, who was here on a short visit.

The Rev. McNutt is an expert in country life betterment and has for six years been a member of the Board of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A., serving as field lecturer and organizer.

A program was given which lasted most of the day. There were about thirty present and nearly every one gave an address or a musical number. Among those present was the veteran D. F. Rogers, ninety years of age, now of Long Beach but for more than sixty years one of the leading men of Iowa. From Long Beach also were Dr. Thomas L. Rogers, Dr. F. L. Rogers, his wife and daughter Frances and his son Captain Gordon Rogers, Mrs. M. Johnson, Miss Julia Ellen Rogers, author of books on Nature study, Miss Dorothy Crew, the Misses Adams of Patterson, Miss Marian Rogers of Stanford University, Dr. A. K. Rogers, his wife and son Robert, Dr. Arthur Rogers, his wife, son and daughter, of Los Angeles, M. S. McNutt and wife, of Burbank, the host and hostess.

Doctors A. R. and Thomas L. Rogers have volunteered as surgeons in the U. S. Army and left on Monday for the field.

Mr. McNutt's own son and twelve of his nephews are enrolled in Uncle Sam's army.

GERARD'S FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY

Friday night the great picture, "My Four Years in Germany," which visualizes in a wonderful way the experiences of United States Ambassador Gerard at the court of Berlin, will be presented at the Palace Grand Theatre. It is something that no citizen who wishes to understand the policy of Germany as regards other nations, particularly the United States, or her aims and purposes in the direction of world conquest, can afford to miss. It was prepared under the direct supervision of the Ambassador and can be depended upon for the accuracy of its presentation of court scenes. It ran for many weeks in Los Angeles. Not often do we have an opportunity to secure such illuminating side lights on history, and it is exceedingly fortunate for Glendale that Messrs. Jensen are enterprising enough to secure this film, which is in great demand and one of the most costly on the market. It will be a liberal education in life at the German court, and an inspiration to patriotism. It is also a narrative of absorbing interest.

THE HORTON SHOE SALE

Manager Ward, who has charge of the Horton Shoe Sale, expects to be up to his eyes in work all this week, as he has a big stock of exceptional excellence to dispose of, at prices which he says will be 25 to 40 per cent under current retail figures. The prospect that Congress will vote to tax every pair of shoes which costs more than $5, he figures will be an incentive to many thrifty souls to get shoes while the getting is good. The fixtures of the store will also be sold.

Mr. Horton is getting out of the shoe business both in Los Angeles and Glendale as he is now interested in a street sweeping machine which demands all his time and attention and which promises a bigger margin of profit than shoes under present conditions.

DEATHS FROM AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Deaths from automobile accidents are on the increase in California. In 1917 620 persons in the state were either killed outright or died as a result of injuries received in auto wrecks, according to figures just compiled by George D. Leslie, statistician of the state board of health. This is an increase of 97 deaths over 1916.

The 620 deaths occurred in the various parts of the state as follows: Northern California, coast counties, 18; interior counties 25; Central California, San Francisco 78, Alameda 42, other bay counties 36; coast counties 28, interior counties, 137; Southern California, Los Angeles, 117, other counties 38. Counties unclassified 101.

In 1915 the death rate was 446 and in 1914 295, showing that deaths increased in keeping with the increase in the number of automobiles in the state.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Hearing on the application of the Pacific Electric company for increased rates set for this morning has been postponed until late this afternoon by the illness of City Attorney A. Thirty-three attorneys representing practically every community of importance served by the Pacific Electric agreed to the continuance.

BRITISH ADVANCE ON THE SOMME—FRENCH MAKE GAINS IN FLANDERS—ITALIANS MASTERS IN ALBANIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, July 11.—The British advanced again south of the Somme and improved their positions east of Villiers-Bretoneaux. Enemy artillery is active on both sides of the Somme. British daylight raids in Flanders were successful. The French enlarged their gains between the Aisne and the Marne, taking the village of Corcy, the railroad station and the castle there.

LONDON, July 11.—The latest dispatches say the Italians aided by the French and Albanians, and British naval units in addition to important gains on the sixty mile front across Albania, threaten the Bulgarian right wing near Monastir, one hundred miles from the Adriatic. Apparently the expedition's objective is the old Roman road between Monastir and Durazzo for the free movement of troops from the Adriatic to Southern Serbia. This would seriously threaten the enemy's hold in the Balkans. A decisive victory may have a disastrous effect on the already low morale of Bulgarian and Slovak Austrian troops.

BLOCK WAR PROHIBITION ACTION

"WETS" KEEP WIRE CONTROL LEGISLATION BEFORE THE SENATE—OPPOSITION TO MEASURE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—In a final effort to stave off war prohibition the Senate "wets" called up wire control legislation today and will keep this question continuously before the Senate until it recesses, hoping to persuade a recess for the summer without disposing of prohibition.

Senator Smith of Michigan today condemned without reservation any plan that would give Postmaster General Burleson censorship of telegraph wires. This was the opening gun of the opposition.

REVOLUTION IN UKRAINE

PEASANTS REBEL WHEN GERMANY TAKES LANDS AND GIVES THEM BACK TO LANDLORDS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

STOCKHOLM, July 11.—The Ukraine is swept by revolution. Germany has already poured in 35 divisions of fighting men and several small well-armed armies of from 15,000 to 20,000 men are defending the villages. Germany's action in giving the land back to the landlords and eliminating peasant homesteading is the cause of the fighting.

ROOSEVELT DOWNS GERMAN PLANE

LIEUTENANT QUENTIN, TEDDY'S YOUNGEST SON, SUCCESSFUL IN AIR FIGHT BEHIND GERMAN LINES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ON THE AMERICAN FRONT, July 11.—Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, Teddy's youngest son, is believed to have downed his first enemy airplane yesterday. Roosevelt was fighting three German machines behind the German lines. After dropping one Boche machine he made his escape unhurt.

VETOES SHORT LINE BILL

PRESIDENT KILLS MEASURE TO PLACE SMALL RAILROADS UNDER GOVERNMENT CONTROL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Wilson today vetoed the Short Line Railroad bill. This measure put under government control every railroad line operating in the country. In his message to the Senate the president stated there are 1700 such lines in the country in many cases built and controlled by various private business interests.

A CALL TO SERVICE

SALVAGE DEPARTMENT OF JUNIOR RED CROSS NEEDS WORKERS

Friends of the Glendale Chapter American Red Cross, do you realize the importance of the salvage department of the work? Next Saturday and every Saturday thereafter the salvage room will be open for workers and help is wanted, men, women and children can all do their part and it is an important part of the war work.

Volunteers are wanted, machines are needed to gather up the salvage, women and children are needed to assort and put it in shape and men are needed to tie bundles and bale waste paper.

There is scarcely an article that is usually thrown away or wasted that can not be used by the salvage department and turned into money that will buy all kinds of supplies for the comfort of our boys in the battle front.

Here is a list of the most useful of refuse articles: old newspapers, magazines, old shoes, iron, brass, copper, tin foil, lead, bottles, rags, old clothes, rubber tires and tubes, hot water bottles, kid gloves and any soft leather to line aviators' vests, castor beans, apricot and peach pits that have not been cooked, old gold and silver. This should be the work of every patriotic citizen and should be done promptly and well.

From four to six machines are needed every Saturday and persons giving salvage can make the work lighter by putting their articles in good shape and having them ready when the machine calls. Lay your newspapers in straight piles folded once and tie with string. Make your magazines in bundles and tie. Put your rags and old clothes in sacks or tie in bundles. Keep your tin foil spread out in sheets as you get it. Hull the castor beans and don't put in any seeds of cooked apricots or peaches. Look up the old kid gloves that are past use. Tell your neighbor and help all you can, that this chapter will be able to make a big financial report from the salvage department each month.

Don't give up on account of hot weather. Our boys are on the job without vacations on the battle line in France and by the work of those who must stay at home the battle line will be pushed to Berlin. Get busy the first Saturday after this is published and keep busy every Saturday until the war is over. If you can't work or furnish machines on Saturday you can help by coming around other days and making special calls for salvage or by bringing your neighbors' salvage or the salvage of your block any day and leaving it at the door of the salvage room.

O. SPENCER,
Acting Vice-Chairman Glendale
Chapter A. R. C.

JOHN ROBERT WHITE, JR., FOR ASSEMBLYMAN

Friends of John Robert White, Jr., of 101 South Orange street, Glendale, are announcing him as a prospective republican candidate for the General Assembly.

It has been reported from good authority that Mr. White has consented to be a candidate. Mr. White is a man who is connected with big business affairs in Southern California and his consenting to run for this important office we understand is based on war measure conditions. The time is now here in this country when our government, both National and State, is in need of the services of lawmakers who have been schooled in the business world—men of keen vision who have had actual experience in dealing with big financial problems.

Mr. White, Jr., is an old settler in Southern California and the mention of his name suggests a man who is excellent Assembly timber.

HOUSE PARTY

Miss Frances Payne is entertaining school chums with a little house party this week at her home, 325 South Central avenue, her guest list including Miss Marian Bemis and Misses Annetta and Bettie Hughes of Los Angeles. In honor of her friends Miss Payne is giving a dinner party this evening at which covers will be laid for the three guests mentioned and for Miss Elsie Church, Miss Alice McCoy and Miss Lillian Leppelman. The hostess was recently graduated from the Los Angeles Normal School and has been engaged to teach music and two of the regular grades for the coming year in the public school at El Modeno, at an excellent salary for a young teacher.

CHOOSE NEW HEAD

MRS. A. A. BARTON ELECTED PRESIDENT OF GLENDALE P.-T. A. FEDERATION

A special called meeting of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations was held Wednesday afternoon, July 10th, in the Library of the Intermediate School for the purpose of electing a president to fill the office made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, who has moved with her husband and son to Palo Alto, where she expects to make her permanent residence.

Mrs. A. A. Barton was unanimously chosen to fill the office and her selection is a guarantee that the important work of this organization will be efficiently directed. Mrs. Barton is the chairman of the local committee of the Council of Defense and a prominent member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

The following letter of resignation and good wishes from Mrs. Greenwalt was read at the meeting:

Glendale, California,
July 1, 1918.

To members of Executive Board of Glendale Federation of P.-T. A.:

My Dear Friends As I this day send my resignation as your president, I wish to thank you for the opportunity you gave me to serve you; but fate seems to be the controlling power and my family comes first in my duties. I feel that you will all agree with my decision.

My thoughts go out to you, my dear friends, as you enter the new year's work and I send you the loving greeting of my heart to wish you joy for all your days and blessings for all your deeds.

May you have time for your tasks, wisdom for your undertakings, strength for your duties, peace for your pathways, friends for your fellowship, love for your firesides, solace for your sorrows and faith for your defense.

I hereby return the gavel unused. Whoever leads you I pray God's blessing for the work is God's work. May you prosper as you follow the footsteps of the Great Teacher Who went about doing good.

With love to all.

OPAL GREENWALT,
Palo Alto, California.

MID-DAY PRAYER

RED CROSS WORKERS UNITE IN SHORT, SIMPLE SUPPLICATION OTHER INNOVATIONS

Promptly at twelve o'clock yesterday the two score or more workers in the Red Cross rooms over the Bank of Glendale rose and fervently and reverently prayed for the victory of our allied armies and the safety of our men. The words spoken in unison were:

"God save our splendid men,
Send them safe home again,
God save our men.
Keep them victorious,
Patient and chivalrous,
They are so dear to us,
God save our men."

This noon-day observance has been practiced by our British allies almost from the beginning of the war, but so far as is known the Red Cross workers have been the first to take up the idea in Glendale and it is hoped that their example will be followed by many others and that the movement will soon become nation-wide.

The presence of an official hostess was another innovatoin of the day. It is the purpose of the hostess chairman to have some lady in attendance in this capacity every day, with the possible exception of Saturday, to meet the many visitors who call in a gracious, cordial way and endeavor to interest them in some branch of war work if they are not already at work. As an expression of hospitality, tea will be served in the reception room from four to five, but strictly in accordance with the dictates of Mr. Hoover, namely, without sugar.

GO TO HOT SPRINGS

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bender of 811 Cameron place are looking forward to a trip to California Hot Springs, about 35 miles beyond Porterville, which they expect to make overland by auto the last of the week. They will be accompanied by their daughters Louise and Ruth and will be gone ten days or two weeks. It will be a leisurely journey. About ten years ago they made the same trip and wish to renew their acquaintance with the country and try the beneficial effects of the waters. They had hoped their son John could go with them, but as he is one of the boys who enrolled with the Reserve Workers and is now at work at Simi, he could not join them. The Benders will probably stop at Visalia en route to visit relatives.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1918

OWN YOUR OWN HOME CLUB

Steps will be taken soon to organize a club in Glendale that will advocate the idea of every citizen owning his home. Clubs of this character have been organized in various cities of California with very good results.

The facts are, when it comes to the question of citizens of California owning their homes that very little attention and serious thought has been given to the subject. So many people have been so busy seeing the country that the importance of owning a home has been given little attention. It costs money to see the country and it costs money to own a home, so it is impossible to use the same money for making payments on a residence lot and the up-keep of an automobile. There is no class of people who will do more for the upbuilding of a city than the actual home owners of that city.

AUTO CLUB ARRANGES TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM

A transportation system embracing all of Southern California and capable of furnishing hundreds of machines upon a moment's notice has been arranged for the use of the Federal Government by the Automobile Club of Southern California. Pledge cards requesting motorists to loan their machines for this work have been sent out to members of the Auto Club and are pouring back from car owners who wish to assist Uncle Sam by facilitating the operations of the United States Marshal's office, District Attorney, Department of Justice and Internal Revenue Department. At present an average of five cars per day is being furnished these branches of Uncle Sam's work.

The list of registrants is so large that Secretary S. L. Mitchell of the Auto Club believes that no one will be called on more than once in sixty days. Those serving will not be asked to go outside of their counties, it being possible to relay parties at the various branches of the Auto Club which are located at Riverside, Hollywood, El Centro, Bakersfield, Santa Ana, Long Beach, Pasadena, Whittier, Pomona, Santa Barbara, San Bernardino, San Luis Obispo, San Diego, Visalia, Ventura, Santa Maria and Santa Monica.

The work done, while absolutely devoid of danger, has a tinge of the romantic that should prove very tempting to modern "Knights of the Round Table" who are cooped up between office walls a great deal of the time. Some of the calls are for the transportation of Federal prisoners, while others consist in rushing officers to places where damage, supposed to have been done by alien enemies, has taken place. A great deal of the work of the future will consist in the collection of income taxes.

The motor equipment thus furnished the government by willing Southern California automobilists and the Automobile Club of Southern California, would cost a small fortune if purchased outright by the government.

REPORT OF THE AUTOMOBILE CLUB

All past records of the Automobile Club of Southern California are left behind in the report of that organization for the first six months of 1918. During this period every department has enlarged its scope and increased efficiency. Detective John Powell states that the Theft Bureau has recovered 106 cars valued at $58,300, since the first of the year and 867 machines valued at $443,850 since the founding of the bureau.

The Auto Club's Inter-Insurance Exchange and Insurance Bureau have averaged $1500 a day of business since January 1, 1918, thereby exceeding by far the goal of $1,000 per day set some time ago. Approximately 1200 of the club's members have taken advantage of this.

106 stolen cars valued at $58,300 recovered.

19,500 miles of road covered by scouting crews.

13,000 miles of road mapped by Club Engineers.

35,610 miles covered by sign-posting crews.

12,966 signs erected and repaired.

402,000 maps distributed.

42,000 queries answered on road conditions.

72 special road bulletins issued.

498 cars forwarded by Forwarding Department.

$182,187.30 of insurance written at cost for members in Inter-Insurance Exchange.

$94,360.26 insurance written by the Club's Insurance Bureau.

$276,547.56 total of insurance written during six months.

$60,004.70 paid out in insurance adjustments to owners of burned, stolen and damaged cars.

Legal advice and services rendered to 1231 members.

Average of five cars per day furnished for use of Federal officers.

Two new branches established.

MUCH WOOL WILL BE DEMANDED FOR USE BY ARMY

Coming requirements of the Army for wool look large. Besides clothing for the soldiers in France and at home a reserve must be accumulated sufficient to take care of any emergency.

There are large stocks of manufactured clothing and cloth on hand adequate for essential civilian needs, but woolen suits will not be cheap or plentiful during the coming winter season.

Wool stocks from abroad to supplement the domestic supply is restricted by shipping conditions. The Shipping Board states the movement of Argentine wool will be heavier the coming year than in any preceding year. But a large portion of the raw wool stock in this country and stock to be produced or imported to January, 1920, will be needed for military uses.

The war service committee of the National Association of Woolen Manufacturers and the American Association of Woolen and Worsted Maunfacturers conferred with the War Industries Board and representatives from the Shipping Board, War Trade Board, and Army and Navy over difficulties in the wool supply situation. The policy of the War Industries Board is to regulate prices and distribution when a scarcity arises due to Government demands.

AMERICA CAN MEET FOOD DEMAND

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Crop forecasts indicate that America this year will be able to meet the world's food demands without difficulty according to the Federal Reserve Board's report.

The report marked confidence in the business situation everywhere. The public has accepted the idea of giving government requirements precedence, while government regulation of commodities and utilities is aiding in establishing nation-wide equilibrium.

BRITISH ACE IS KILLED

MAJOR McCUDDEN DIES IN ACCIDENT WITH RECORD OF 54 ENEMY PLANES—ALLIED AVIATORS AIR MASTERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, July 11.—Major McCudden, Britain's premier aviator, was killed in a short fall when leaving his hangar. Major McCudden is responsible for 54 German planes.

Allied aviators have attained absolute mastery of the air, carrying the fighting far behind the enemy lines and bombing day and night at low levels while the Germans attack only at night and from ineffective high levels.

German fighting planes avoid battles in every way possible.

COPENHAGEN, July 11.—A Norwegian destroyer recaptured a Norwegian steamer that was being taken into port by a prize crew from a German submarine.

A BUSHEL MEANS A SOLDIER

Do you know that every bushel of wheat now saved means the support of a soldier on the battle line until the next harvest? As no soldier can live without food, every bushel of wheat is the actual equivalent of a fighting unit. The moral is clear. We must supply soldiers. But it is useless to supply the fighters themselves unless we can also supply the wherewithal upon which the soldier lives. The number of men we can put in the field is in direct relation to the number of men we can feed in the field. Will you support a soldier until the next harvest?

DAVID J. HIBBEN FOR JUSTICE

Petitions have been signed and filed nominating David J. Hibben for the office of Justice of Peace of this township. The petitions were circulated and signed by neighbors of Mr. Hibben who have known him for the last eleven years of his residence in this city and have confidence to believe that he will efficiently fill the position of justice if elected to that office.

Like all loyal candidates for election this fall Mr. Hibben does not approve of diverting any of the efforts now being engaged to win the war toward the election of any man to any position. He does believe however that at this time more than at any time in history the voter is entitled to know all about the aspirant to an office from the information on his birth certificate down to his opinions on the administration and his efforts to win the war.

Mr. Hibben is fifty-five years of age. He was born in Illinois and is of English extraction. He was educated at the Ridott High School and at Battle Creek College, Battle Creek, Michigan. He came to this community eleven years ago with his wife and three daughters. One daughter taught in the Tropico schools for five years and is now Mrs. Kemper Campbell. The youngest daughter is a graduate from the Glendale Union High School.

Mr. Hibben is a member of the Board of Education of the City of Glendale and has taken an active part in all movements for the common betterment of his community.

He is known to many of our citizens through his participation in the Dry Campaign, the Y. M. C. A., Red Cross, Liberty Loan and Thrift Stamp Campaigns. The position to which he aspires is non-partisan but disregarding all pre-war politics Mr. Hibben is outspoken in his loyalty to the present administration and is doing his bit to inspire confidence in the conduct of the war. Whatever other aspirations he may have he evinces no desire to advise President Wilson and his cabinet of any simpler method of beating the Germans.

"GOTT MIT UNS"

By Charles B. Driscoll

"Our German God is on our side,"
Says Bloody Bill of Prussia,
"Forth with my soldiers He doth ride,
Through Finland and through Russia!

"He's with our guns when they destroy
A church on Corpus Christi;
His heart is filled with pride and joy
By gas clouds, green and misty!

" 'Twas He who taught us how to throw
Big bombs at sleeping babies;
Our German God is strong, you know,
And deals in force, not maybes!"

Yet we who learned at Mother's knee
Of Christ, the gentle brother,
Can't understand how this can be
The God we knew through Mother.

No, no, there must be some mistake,
Or Bloody Bill is lying;
God couldn't make the world's heart ache
With little heildren's crying!

Residents of Vine street are getting mighty impatient for the removal of the burned shell that has been standing on the lot at 1530 for a year past. It is not only a dangerous harbor for night strollers but is a detriment to all surrounding property. There ought to be some way to force its removal.

Mrs. C. W. Bachman of 303 West Ninth street reports the receipt of letters announcing the safe arrival of her son Leon at Vancouver Barracks, whither he was sent a short time ago for work in connection with the getting out of spruce timber for the building of air ships. He is not yet out of quarantine, she says, so has not been able to write much of his surroundings. He has written that it was a grand trip and that the barracks are in a wonderful country.

Sam Merriken of 1529 Ivy did his bit at war gardening this year by pulling off a remarkable stunt in potato raising. His ground, which is near Roscoe, was plowed with a tractor outfit and just before the potatoes came up he had the ground dragged. The seed came up well and received no irrigation and no cultivation, not even with the hoe, yet he gathered a large crop of very large potatoes. By the way, Sam and his excellent family expect to leave Glendale in a few days, he having taken up a government claim of 320 acres, which he will proceed to develop.

ALTON M. BROOKS GOES EAST TO REPORT FOR SERVICE OVERSEAS

Monday evening an informal farewell gathering was held at the First Methodist church to give friends an opportunity to say good-bye to Alton M. Brooks of 211 South Jackson street, who enrolled some time ago as a Y. M. C. A. war worker and who left Tuesday morning for New York City in the expectation of being sent abroad without delay. About fifty attended the reception, which opened with the singing of hymns in which all joined. Arthur G. Lindley, president of the Brotherhood, of which Mr. Brooks was a member, acted as chairman, and brief addresses and greetings were given by A. W. Tower, superintendent of the Sunday School, Dr. Durfee, president of the Federated Brotherhood, W. B. Kirk, a warm personal friend of Mr. Brooks, and by B. Dudley Snudden, pastor of the church.

There was present John W. Cotton of San Rafael street, Casa Verdugo, also enlisted as a Y. M. C. A. worker, who has likewise gone east to report for duty. Mr. Brooks and Mr. Cotton made appreciative responses to the good wishes of their friends, and refreshments were served at the close of the program. Mr. Brooks will stop en route to visit a brother in Pennsylvania, and he and Mr. Cotton are to report the same day in New York. It is quite possible they will sail together.

Mr. Brooks is well known as an educator. He was superintendent of schools in Glendale a few years ago and the past year has been on the faculty of Jefferson High School, Los Angeles. Mrs. Brooks and family will remain in Glendale during his absence.

STATE HAPPENINGS

SACRAMENTO, Cal. July 11.—Two executions are on the prison calendars for tomorrow, July 12. Joseph Schoon, an I. W. W., is sentenced to be hanged at Folsom prison for the murder of John L. Brisco, a policeman, in Stockton February 5, 1917, while Wong Hing, a Chinese, is under sentence to hang at San Quentin for murdering a Chinese during a tong war in San Francisco. Schoon is endeavoring, through his attorney, to have his execution delayed on the ground that he was given his preliminary examination on Saturday afternoon, a legal holiday. His petition for a writ of habeas corpus is still pending before the state supreme court.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 11.—Oakland shipyard workers have served notice on public authorities and keepers of eating places near the shipyards that unless the restaurants are reformed into better places to eat, the ship workers will establish cafeterias, operated by themselves.

MIAMI, Ariz., July 11.—Army officers have passed the word to keepers of restaurants and refreshment places in this vicinity that if they refuse to serve uniformed men, they will be severely dealt with. The case of a refreshment parlor proprietor who refused to serve a colored soldier, caused the action by military authorities.

EL CENTRO, Cal., July 11.—J. E. Druiff, of the British American Mercantile Company, has offered Imperial County 1200 ostriches, to be turned out on the arid deserts where, he believes, they will prosper. Before the war they were worth $150,000 and are worth a lot now. But Druiff wants to get rid of them because of the cattle feed they consume which might be put to more useful purposes.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 11.—Dr. C. L. Marlatt, chairman of the federal horticulture board, will personally represent the board at the interstate plant quarantine conference at Riverside November 11 to 16, according to word received by G. H. Hecke, state horticultural commissioner.

GLENDALE DYE WORKS

FOR BEST EFFECTS IN PAINTING HOUSES

The artistic embellishment of houses with paint is possible only when effected by means of well-known rules, mere individual taste being too uncertain a guide to follow. For instance, no matter what its owner's taste may decide, a low built squatty house calls for light, cheerful coloring, for the reason that dark colors simply emphasize its want of height, while light colors apparently increase its height. Some houses, owing to their particular style of architecture, should be painted entirely in white. But as a general thing this does not show up the building to the best advantage; it is only the chance structure that will do in white, says J. Ashmun Kelly in the National Builder. Colonial style houses are sometimes painted entirely in white, trim, body and all; but as a white body will admit of almost any color of trim, it is usually preferred to entire white. Such trim colors as pea green, gray, light yellow, or very light brown, will look neat, please the average eye, and enhance the architectural effect. Sometimes the owner tires of the white body; then an agreeable change may be made by making the body of the house a warm drab, or medium drab, or graystone, or ivory white, with white trim.

The Colonial style of house should never be painted in dark colors, such as brown, red, or any other pronounced colors. An old stone farm house looks best with white walls with almost any color of trim, though white here is allowable; blinds and shutters should be green. In former years the shutters were done white, but a dark chrome green is distinctly better style. There is a tendency to have the green too dark a tone like dark bronze, but the medium or even dark shade of chrome green will look better.

The safe colors for a house are red, white, gray, yellow and brown, according to the style of building. Or the walls may be a light gray, a sort of brownish gray, white trim, with a deep brownish gray for blinds and shutters. Or a pale yellow for the walls and white trim, this being particularly pleasing. White for the walls of the country house is especially satisfactory, showing from a distance in pretty glimpses, through its surrounding trees and shrubbery, essential setting for the rural picture. This will afford a pleasing perspective even when the leaves have fallen, for the bare boughs will serve to soften the effect. Grays and browns are good for those nondescript sorts of houses, ugly ones if you like; but it is best to have the grays on the yellow shades, rather than on the cold blue tones.

Very few greens are suitable for the exterior walls of houses, though an artist has suggested terra verte and white trim, with a little yellow, as a pleasing combination. Slatey greens are good. Certainly greens should be used sparingly where the house is situated amidst much shrubbery, trees and other green things. In such a case the house needs colors that will agreeably contrast and harmonize with a setting of trees and shrubbery.

The white paint on the house should be white, absolutely white, and then if the trim is in some good color, from light to dark, preferably the latter, the white will appear still whiter than when not thus relieved. White lead, in some cases at least, is not white, though if made with care and from perfectly pure lead it will be white. Also if some zinc white be added, that will make the paint still whiter than the whitest lead. This is often done, not only to make a better appearing white, but to make a more durable paint. It is impossible to keep the white at its best where much coal smoke prevails, for the sulphur acts on the lead, producing lead sulphide, and turning the paint to a dirty gray. Zinc white is not thus affected, but is of so brittle a nature that it is apt to crack or scale, and is at its best on exterior work when in combination with lead.

Where dark green is used for the trim a mistake will be made if it is used too sparingly, the body being white. Use the green under the eaves, as well as on the other parts of the cornice; use it on the window sash, corner and base boards, porch floors and rails, and blinds and shutters.

Where there is much factory or engine smoke the house may be painted a French gray, or pearl gray. Or a light slate body with light gray trim, black sash, roof olive color, will give a pleasing effect and prove quite durable where white and very light tints are out of the question. Another good color scheme in this connection is medium drab body, ivory white trim, and maroon sash. Or stone color body, ivory white trim, and chocolate brown sash. These color schemes are adapted to city houses, as well as suburban residences.

Here are a dozen combinations from which to select a scheme that will best fit the architecture of your house and the surroundings. It is desirable to make the house fit into the place it occupies. You must take into account style of architecture, presence or absence of trees and shrubbery, distance between houses on either side, and the color schemes used by your immediate neighbors.

The colors given represent in order the body, trim and sash:

1. Pearl gray, pure white, maroon.
2. Cream, light brown, dark bottle green.
3. Ivory white, pure white, maroon.
4. Pure white, dark green black.
5. Medium drab, ivory white, maroon.
6. Chocolate brown, pure white, white.
7. French gray, pure white, maroon.
8. Colonial yellow, pure white, white.
9. Bronze gray, pure white, maroon.
10. Fawn, pure white, maroon.
11. Stone color, ivory white, chocolate brown.
12 Slate; pure white, maroon.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

HOOVER ADMINISTRATION IN CALIF. REPLIES TO INQUIRIES OF MR. AND MRS. CITIZEN

Food

Why will food win the war?

Because fighters can not fight without food, and the civilians of America, Britain, France, and Italy who support soldiers and sailors can not do so without food.

What must be done to make food win the war?

Food must be abundantly produced, economically manufactured, evenly distributed, and carefully conserved.

What has been the chief cause of the Russian trouble and of riots in other countries?

Lack of food.

How are foods classified?

For convenience, food can be subdivided into five groups, as follows:

1. Fruits and vegetables.
2. Meat substitutes, and meat savers.
3. Grain and other starchy foods.
4. Sugars and sweets.
5. Fats.

What is a simple explanation of each group?

1. Fruits and vegetables contain mineral matter which helps build bones and tissues, and they are especially good for regulating the body processes.

2. Milk, meats, fish, eggs, cheese, furnish proteins that are especially good as tissue builders and repairers of waste tissue.

3. Potatoes, corn, rice, and other cereal grains contain starch and are good as body fuel.

4. Cane and beet sugar, honey, maple sugar, syrups, sugars in fruits, are good as body fuel and as flavoring.

5. Cream, butter, meat fats, lard, vegetable and nut oils furnish fat. Fats have a high value as body fuel and give pleasant flavor to food.

Wheat is a well-balanced diet?

One containing a proper proportion of the five food groups. One food from each of the groups should be used each day.

Does this principle apply to everyone?

The diet will vary with the age, weight, health, occupation and location of the individual. The variation is largely in the quantity rather than in the kind used.

Will the small individual savings actually get to the Allies and help win the war?

Unquestionably, yes. Every time you eat a wheat substitute it is exactly as if you stretched out your hand and gave the wheat you have saved to some fighter or worker in trench or field or factory "over there."

Why does the Food Administration ask a person with plenty of money to refrain from buying more food than is absolutely necessary for health?

Because it is a patriotic duty to eat only what is needed for health so that food may be saved to help win the war.

Why is it insufficient to say "I've always saved all the food I can?"

Because today it is not only saving but substitution which is necessary.

But will not foodstuffs spoil at the grocer's if people do not buy them?

A grocer orders supplies according to the demand. If you constantly decrease your demand for certain things he will reduce his supplies by that much.

What are the foods which we must especially save?

WHEAT — MEAT — SUGAR — FATS.

Why must we send these particular foods?

Because they contain the most concentrated nourishment in the most easily shippable form.

Where especially are they needed?

In children's diet.

LA CANADA

A milestone in history, from President Wilson's Fourth of July message: "I ask you fellow citizens to unite in making this our Independence Day the first that shall be consecrated to a declaration of independence for all the peoples of the world."

All Red Cross workers as parts of the great whole have with the other workers all over the United States received directions concerning Red Cross work. We in California belong to the Western Division with headquarters in San Francisco. Pasadena with other chapters has been informed as to the quota of work expected from it, its branches and auxiliaries. In turn Pasadena passes out to the branches and auxiliaries their quota, leaving to them the number of garments they think they can produce. La Canada has its say as to how many its Red Cross will make. This is a new way to give a quota. There are now three machines in steady use. Mrs. Darius Scott sent her new machine over before she left for the north. It may be more machines could be used. Certainly there is now plenty of work. Come and help. The idea at Washington, D. C., seems to be that the National Board is the one to say what and when. It is up to it to keep ahead of the demand by anticipating needs and being ready with the supply. Pasadena sends next Tuesday a representative to talk over the Red Cross method of making up the quota. Come and hear.

We are asked in the name of democracy to save pits from cherries, apricots, peaches, plums, nectarines. They possess commercial value to the Red Cross.
